THE BURGESS GROUP

The Burgess Group, A Local Company With International Connections, Is Being Featured By A National Magazine.

Salt Lake City, UT – July 16, 2008 - The Burgess Group, located in downtown Salt Lake City, is the cover story of Best Practices magazine. The story focuses on the double family aspect of The Burgess Group: The business creates wealth for families and is a family business. Steve Burgess, the CEO and president, founded the company in 1999. His wife, Liz Burgess, VP and general counsel, works with him as does his daughter, Addie King and his three sons, Nick, Alex and Zach Burgess.

The Group's clients are high net worth insureds who elect to finance life insurance premiums. The objectives include estate planning, charitable giving and corporate or succession planning.

Best Practices of America is a national, multi-disciplinary financial advisory group that brings together the most innovative and advanced financial professionals for joint-work and knowledge-sharing opportunities. To highlight the expertise of its members, Best Practices of America publishes, Best Practices, a nationally-distributed magazine which is sent to tens of thousands of top-notch financial planners, estate and tax attorneys as well as CPAs across the country.
